Westside Samaritans Clinic seeks to provide basic health care (medical and dental) for those who cannot afford conventional health care. This group includes but is not limited to the homeless, migrant workers, the disadvantaged, students, and the uninsured. If they make less than 200% of federal poverty and don't have insurance, they qualify. However, if they need specialty services from an outside entity (via. We-Care), they need to be an Alachua County resident.
